
Charitable Remainder Trusts

Background

A charitable remainder trust (CRT) is designed to encourage charitable contributions by providing its creator with a significant tax deduction in the year the trust is created, to provide income for the creator of the trust until their death, and then to provide the residual trust principal or its income to a charity or multiple charities of the creator's choice thereafter.

What are the Benefits of a Charitable Remainder Trust?

- To receive a current lump-sum tax deduction for the amount gifted into the trust.
- To provide the creator with an income stream from the trust until their death.
- To protect assets in the trust from future creditor claims relating to the creator.
- To offer potential principal growth and income within the trust.
- To avoid taxable gains within the trust.
- To achieve privacy within the trust because there is no registration or public recording.

Why Establish a CRT with Nevada Trust Company?

- A. Nevada has the best asset protection statutes in the country.
- B. Establishes a beachhead in Nevada for future estate and tax planning activities.
- C. Nevada Trust provides institutional resources with family office personalized services.
- D. Expertise in administering a wide range of complex assets such as real estate, mineral rights, intellectual property, trust deeds and interests in closely-held businesses.

Who Will Benefit from a CRT?

- High-income individuals seeking lump-sum deductions in the current year.
- Investors seeking tax deductions to offset substantial gains in the current year.
- Charitably minded individuals, who have need for current income, would like to leave a charitable legacy after their death.

Why Use a Corporate Trustee?

A corporate trustee with the required attributes including extensive experience, personnel, insurance and resources necessary to manage even the most difficult situations is equipped to provide services for the most complex asset classes and extraordinary circumstances. As an independent fiduciary, a corporate trustee is removed from the prejudices inherent in family relationships that can compromise an individual trustee's objectivity.

Where do I Obtain More Information or Initiate the Process?
